BURGLARY AT WESTERLY STORE

Watches, Knives, Revolvers Et. al.—Taken Evidently by Boy—Methodist Church Plans Rally Day—Honors for Chas. J. Butler—Weddings—Obituary Notes.

The Charles W. Willard company hardware store in High street, Westerly, was burglarized during Wednesday night. Upon opening the store Thursday morning a glance at a show case convinced that a burglary had been committed and the fact was reported to Chief of Police Branfield. Entrance was obtained through a rear basement window. By standing on a convenient barrel in order to reach the window two panes of glass were removed and the center of the same cut away, and then the burglar or burglars made easy entry. From this basement there was no difficulty in reaching the store proper.

A number of Ingersoll watches, knives, revolvers and other articles were taken, but the actual quantity or value could not be ascertained. It was made by way of the basement door which the burglars unlocked from the inside and thence to High street through the open lot just east of the Willard block. That this route was taken is indicated by the finding of a dog chain which had been dropped. There was no attempt made to get any money, as the cash register had not been opened, nor any drawers, desks, or safe disturbed. The police are of opinion that this burglary is the work of some boy, presumably one who entered the Willard store several months ago. In that case entrance was made in the same way as at Willard's, like articles were taken, and the cash register was undisturbed, although it had been left open and contained $8.

At the annual Rally day of Grace Methodist church next Sunday morning, the Sunday school will render this exercise entitled The Way of the Strong: Processional; the call to worship; hymn; When Morning Glides the Sky; reading; collect; prayer; The Way of Obedience; The Two Builders; children's song; recitation; hymn; Angel's Story; The Way of Fearlessness; The Hero of Gibe; recitation; hymn; The Son of God Goes Forth to War; The Way of Righteousness; The Story of Zacharias; recitation; hymn; Soldiers; recitation; hymn; The Way of Fellowship with God; The Fiery Furnace; recitation; hymn; Hushed Was the Evening; The Way of Service; The Church's Mission; recitation; hymn; offering; hymn; Christ for the World We Sing; closing sentences; benediction. The exercise will take the place of the usual morning service.

Rev. George W. Rigler, D.D., Dace, William H. Green and Lorenzo D. Chace have been chosen to represent the First Baptist church of Westerly at the council of the Second Richmond Baptist church of Shannock, next Wednesday afternoon, to consider the propriety of setting apart that city to the gospel ministry. Walter N. Reynolds, eleven other churches have been invited to send representatives to the council.

The Rhode Island State Conference of Congregational Churches will hold autumnal meeting with the Riverside Congregational church, next Tuesday. Each church is entitled to representation by its pastor, Sunday school superintendent and two others. A feature of the morning session will be discussion of the subject, Should the Mid-Week Prayer Meeting Be Maintained? In the afternoon there will be open parliament on the subject, Co-operation and Fellowship Among the Churches. Our conference, opened by Rev. John Hale Larry, also an address on The Church at Work, by Rev. Charles P. Wood.

In the morning Charles W. Davidson, president Congregational Brotherhood of Massachusetts, will deliver an address on The Brotherhood Movement. The assistant postmasters of presidential postoffices in the state have organized the Rhode Island Association of Assistant Postmasters and will affiliate with the National Association of Assistant Postmasters. The purpose is improvement of the postal service. The national association is now in annual session in Indianapolis. Charles J. Butler of Westerly was elected president of the Rhode Island association. In recognition of his ability and long service, Mr. Butler was appointed assistant to Postmaster Samuel H. Cross, February 1, 1890. He served with Postmaster William P. Clancy, and now in his third term with Postmaster Walter Price. The other officers are: Charles McAlvey, Pawtucket, vice president; Martin P. Bennett, of Newport, secretary and treasurer.

At the fall meeting of the Rhode Island Library association, to be held Timely Word to the Wealthy.

The wealthy and the noble, when they expend large sums in decorating their houses with the rare and costly efforts of genius, with busts from the pencil of a Raphael, are to be commended, if they do not stand still there, but go on to bestow some pains and cost, that the master himself be not inferior to the mansion, and that the owner be not the only thing that is little, amidst everything else that is great.—Colton.

Drums from the Congo.
The Conservatoire exhibition of musical instruments contains some interesting specimens of drums of uncivilized people. A new specimen has just been presented by M. V. C. Mahillon, director of the museum, which is considered unique. It is three feet long, of wood, in which is carved a figure seated on an elephant. It is said to come from the Congo.—From a Brussels Letter to the New York Herald's Paris Edition.

Just Wanted the Earth.
"Lard," prayed the old colored deacon, "send us a bright prospect, but don't let it blaze! Or, if it does blaze, send down a flood to put it out, but not enough water to drown us! Give us good crops, but not too much cotton for de sheriff ter levy on. Make us thankful for what we receive, an' keep us receivein'. We're all po' creetur's, Lard, but we won't be po' no longer if you'll only make us rich."—Atlanta Constitution.

Animals as Shamblers.
Many animals feign illness. In military stables horses are known to have pretended to be lame in order to avoid going to a military exercise. A chimpanzee in the zoo had been fed on cake when ill; for some time after his recovery he often feigned coughing in order to procure further dainties.

Instructions Easy to Follow.
Anna had heard the doctor tell her mother to keep her feet warm and her head cool. After the doctor had gone the little girl said: "He needn't have told you that, for I couldn't be any other way with a boll on my foot and a cold in my head."

Good Way to Look at Task.
Big things are only little things put together. It is encouraging to think of this when confronted by a big task. Remember that it is only a group of little tasks, any one of which you can easily do. It is ignorance of this fact that makes some men afraid to try.—Warren.

No Need to Be Alarmed.
An English writer says education is ridding the world of genius by making everybody a mediocrity. Don't get scared. A real genius is always a long way ahead of the very latest education.

Act for Oneself.
Well is it for us to do our own thinking, listening quietly to the opinions of others, but to be sufficiently men and women to act always upon our own convictions.—Ralph Waldo Trine.

True and False Friendship.
False friendship is like the ivy, which decays and ruins the wall it embraces; but true friendship gives new life and animation to the object it supports.—Burton.

Why Worry?
It does not pay to fume over things we cannot change. As the poet says "expense of spirit is a waste of shame." Flout fortune and be merry.

As Most of Us Do.
The tailor and milliners have begun to tell people what they are going to wear just as if they were not to continue to wear what they get.

Time for Parental Concern.
It is time for the wise parent to take action when his son acquires the nickname of "Kid."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Probability.
It is probable that Eve wanted that apple because the serpent made her believe it had been marked down.

The Limit of Knowledge.
James: To know one thing thoroughly would be to know the universe.

The method of raising sunken vessels by compressors are pumped into the hull has been found successful.

The Oldest Bridge.
The Sulpician bridge, at Rome, is the oldest in history. It is made of wood, and was erected in the seventh century. It has been twice rebuilt, but is in ruins at the present day.

In Character.
Wife—"Is there any difference between a fort and a fortress?" Husband—"Not much, except, of course, that a fortress must be harder to silence."—Lippincott's.

Praise and Pudding.
We are thankful for words of praise, but pudding, as well as praise, is essential to the well being of every human being here below.—Western School Journal.

Alike to the Miser.
People who are always taking care of their health are like misers who are hoarding up treasures which they never have spirit to enjoy.—Sterne.

Odor of Ambergris.
It is claimed for ambergris that not only has it its own odor, but that it also possesses the quality of exalting the flavor and perfume of other substances with which it is brought in contact. The odor is similar to that of musk; but it is much more penetrating and enduring.
